

DIRECTOR OF MARKETING AND COMMUNICATIONS

September 2025

RIGHT TO PLAY
PROTECT. EDUCATE. EMPOWER.

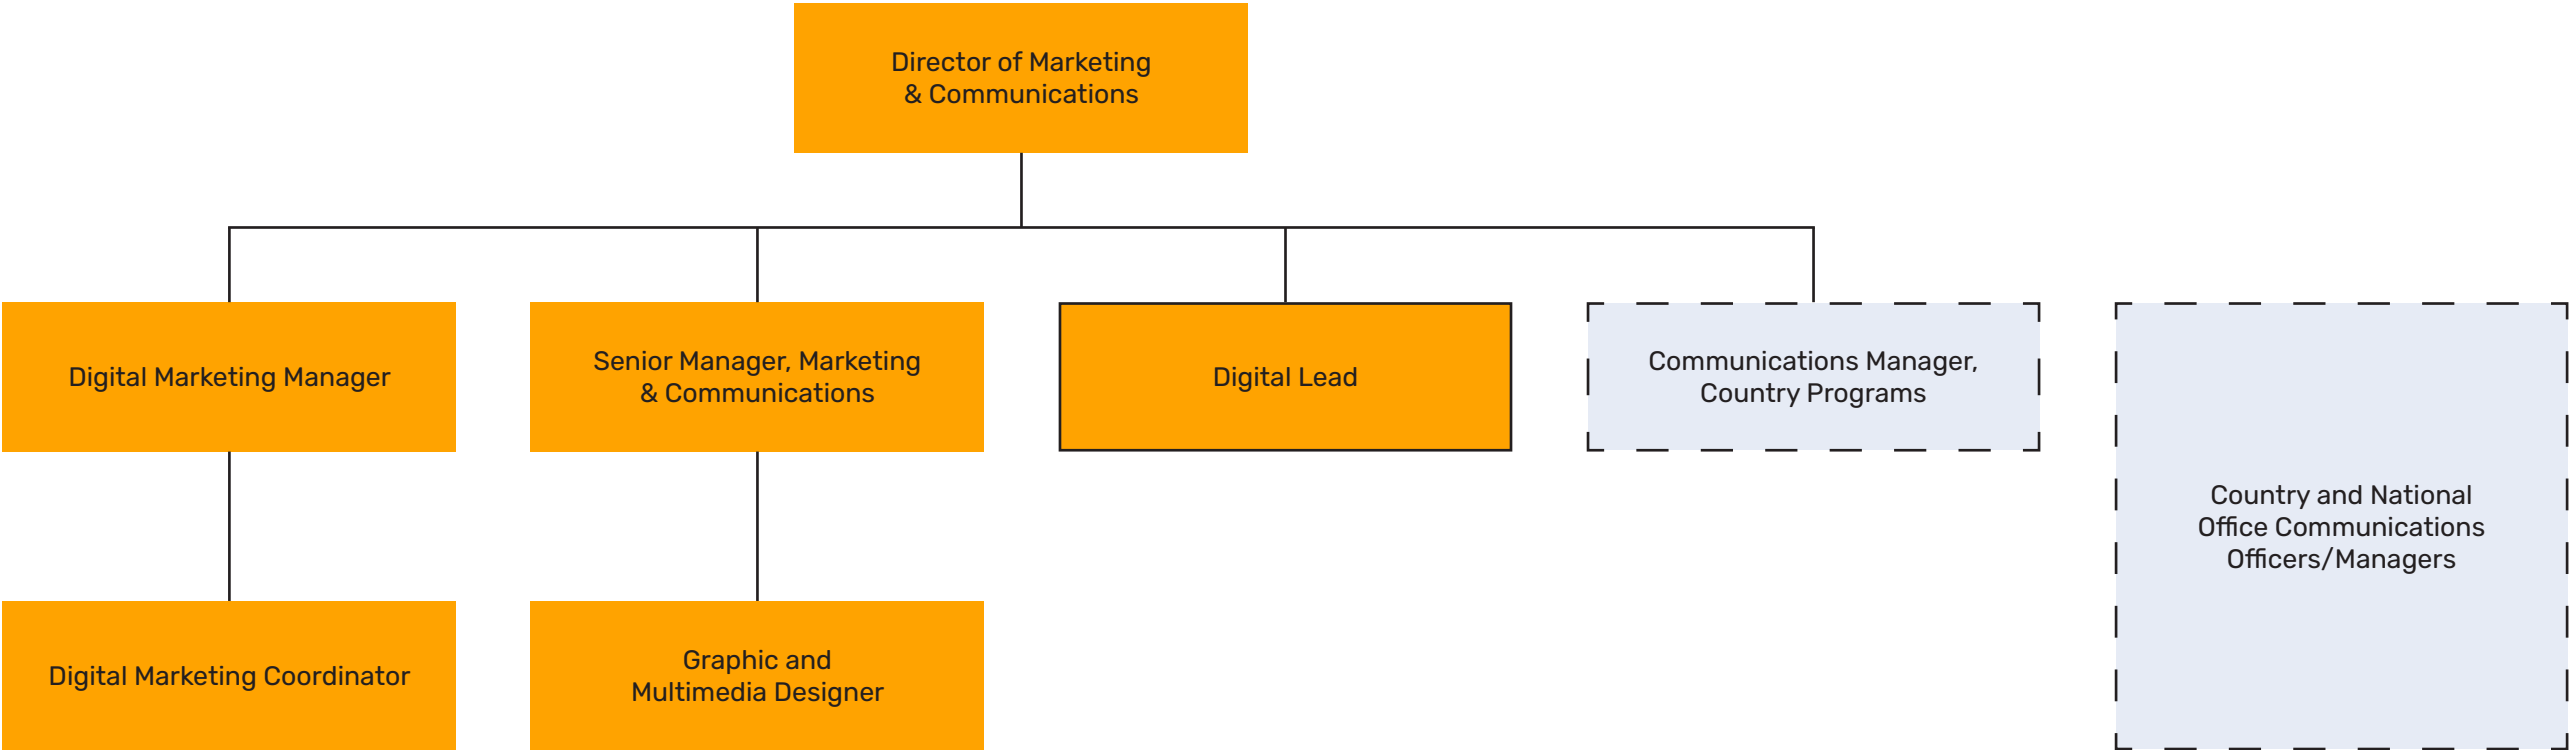

ABOUT RIGHT TO PLAY

Right To Play protects, educates, and empowers children to rise above adversity using the power of play. For 25 years, we have been a global leader in helping children learn and improve their well-being through play. We reach millions of children each year in 14 countries in Africa, Asia, the Middle East, and Indigenous communities in Canada, helping them to stay in school and learn, overcome prejudice, heal from trauma, and develop the skills they need to thrive. We do this by harnessing play, one of the most fundamental forces in a child's life, to teach children the critical skills they need to dismantle barriers and embrace opportunities, in learning and in life.

CANDIDATE PROFILE

Right To Play are seeking a Communications and Marketing professional with an appetite for a challenging scope of work. Experienced in working within the non-profit sector, the individual will lead and manage with a high degree of emotional intelligence, working in partnership with the global network of offices for success. They will have the ability to be the architect of communications delivery with a keen mind and focus on strategy.

Communications at Right To Play primarily works in business partnership with programmes and fundraising to achieve organizational goals. The right individual will therefore be used to an environment where they can lead as a supportive element to organisational strategy. They will be an experienced and enthusiastic collaborator and facilitator, working with people to get things done. The role requires the right balance of strategic leadership with the ability to devolve and localize where possible.

Critically they will understand the relationship between brand and fundraising, working within an environment where utilizing networks and support will be key for maximum impact. Key to this is the ability to cater communications to an institutional and individual fundraising audience.

The Director's team is small, consisting of 6 staff, but Right To Play has a more extensive network of communications and marketing professionals across their global network, thus understanding how to leverage these will be key to success.

Core Competences

- Collaboration: Builds strong, trust-based relationships across global teams, fostering alignment and shared ownership of strategic goals.
- Growth Mindset: Actively seeks opportunities for creativity, learning, and innovation; embraces change and leverages feedback to enhance performance and outcomes.
- Resilience: Maintains focus, composure, and strategic clarity in high-pressure environments; navigates challenges with determination and adaptability.
- Professionalism: Demonstrates integrity, accountability, and sound judgment; represents the organization with credibility and respect.
- Management and Interpersonal Skills: Leads with empathy and clarity; inspires teams through effective communication, performance management, and inclusive leadership.

Skills and Experience

- Graduate degree in Marketing and/or Communications or relevant experience.
- Minimum of 10 years' experience in Marketing and Communications, ideally with international exposure.
- Experience in the international development and/or humanitarian sector is preferred.
- Excellent writing, editing, and public speaking skills in English; proficiency in a second language is an asset.
- Strong project design and management capabilities.
